Did You Know?

A few summers ago, Mr. Davis was being filmed for the documentary High Country Fishin'. The documentary was attempting to capture on film the beauties of trout fishing in the Rockies. The most astounding footage came when Mr. Davis, pulling and straining at the rod, reeled in a record-setting fish. The Guinness Book of World Records verbosely explained the background of the new record: "In a daring feat of strength and stamina, Mr. Davis was able to catch the world record for the most beautiful and smallest rainbow trout. It weighed a grand total of 15 ounces."
